MARINES REACH SHANGHAI AS BIG BATTLE BREWS

Army Defenses 28 Miles to South.

BULLETIN.
SHANGHAI, Feb. 24.—(U. N.)—British authorities began concentrating their people in the foreign concessions in Shanghai tonight as protection against violence from approaching troops of the Chinese army. Warnings were sent all outlying districts, advising agents national to be ready to flee to Shanghai settlements on a moment's notice.

BY JOHN POWELL.
Chicago Tribune Press Service.
SHANGHAI, Feb. 24.—The Chicago Tribune, Feb. 24.—Twelve hundred and fifty American marines and the transport Chaumont arrived at Shanghai at 8 a. m. after making what is said to be a record in the transporting of American forces across the Pacific.

Spent a day in Honolulu, the Chaumont made the trip from San Francisco in nineteen days.

Championship Rifle Team.
According to the officers, this machine contains the champion rifle team of America.

Following its entrance into harbor, the Chaumont lay toock to refuel following which it dropped anchor in mid-channel. According to the officers, the tanks remain aboard ship unless tanks are needed for the protection of American residents and property.

1,500 American Troops.
Immediately upon landing Admiral William went aboard and met Col. Charles S. Hill, the marine attaché, to a conference with the British consul, Clarence Gausa. The officers of the marine regiment in command of the Chaumont included Lieutenant Commander John Peterson of Macdonald, Ian D. Emmett F. Gunn of Clinton, one of the American women and Miss Little May Wilkinson of Anderson, Ky., secretary of the American consulate at Shanghai, who had been on leave, and returned Shanghai on the Chaumont.

American forces now number 2,300 and seven warships in Shanghai. The American destroyers Nou and Wade arrived from Manila today.

Managing Troops Arrive.
The Manchurian troops, under the English general, Chang Chung-han, have won the race to Shanghai, having arrived tonight by train from Nanking. Each day 5,000 may be expected from now on. The troops were immediately sent out to march twenty-eight miles south of Nanking to reinforce the demoralized troops of Gen. Sun Chuan-fang, now驻守 before the Cantonese army. They are encroaching at Sun-ghai.

In addition to the Fengtien troops, it is reported that Gen. Chen Tsao-tin is dispatching a northward marching sixteen gunboats, manned by White Russians, to sweep the rest of the fleet in this area joining the southern side.

Gen. Sun Eliminated.
It is now certain that Gen. Sun will be eliminated from the scene, which is now settling down with the Cantonese and English forces, since Gen. Chang Chung-han's arrival makes certain the English defense force, as yet to arrive at Shanghai on Sunday evening before the Cantonese arrive.

LETTER LAWYER SMITES 'GREED' OF THE CURZONS

Assails 'Purchase of Proud Titles.'

The late Lord Curzon's spirit might shiver could the words of a Chicago lawyer, spoken yesterday in the trial of the suit over the millions of Levi Z. Leiter, be carried to the resting place of that British statesman.

For the late Marquess Curzon of Kedleston, whose wife was Levi Leiter's daughter, Mary, was pictured by Henry Russell Platt, counsel for Joseph Leiter, as the "grasping, malicious" leader in a conspiracy by titled heads of Europe to seize for their own control the vast Leiter wealth which grew and was built up in Chicago.

A Biblical Parallel.

Lady Curzon was described by the lawyer as a modern Rachel who took of her father's choicest possessions, as Rachel took Laban's when she married Jacob, and who then renounced her of blood and fealty to her shopkeeper father, as did also Rachel to Laban.

Described by the same biblical reference was the Countess of Suffolk, another Leiter daughter, who brought the charge against her brother, Joseph, that he had mismanaged their father's estate. Lady Suffolk, once Daisy Leiter, was also called the "purchaser of a proud title."

As she listened Lady Suffolk suffered a slight smile, with just a trace of cynicism, to curve her lips, and occasionally she stole a glance at Joseph, her brother, sitting roundly in his spotless white waistcoat. He seemed to expand under the pleasing balm of his lawyer's address, and he frequently looked toward his titled sister, as if to convey to her that "here is the true story, Daisy."

Nancy Leiter Campbell, the fourth child of Levi Leiter, sat beside Joseph, whom she defends. Always her head was bent over her needlework, at which she toiled diligently.

Abile, but Arrogant.

"Lord Curzon was a man undoubtedly of great ability," began Mr. Platt when he opened his final argument in Joseph Leiter's behalf with an attack upon the late British secretary of state for foreign affairs. "Contemporary literature, especially during the great war, was full of recognition also that he was a most arrogant, and God knows that is a distinction, whether it be an honor or not."

"His acts will show that he was a harsh, overbearing man, who refused to brook the slightest opposition."

Capt. Gregory Moran said he could do nothing officially, but telegraphed to the chief of police of Clarksville and asked him, if possible, to stop the wedding. Late last night word was received that, although Miss Edna Lowen had gone to Clarksville from her home in St. Paul to marry Apple, they had postponed the ceremony for six months.

public by the state department, shows that Sir Ernest Howard, the British ambassador, made the first representation to Secretary Kellogg in a note dated Feb. 19.

When no reply was received to this appeal, London dispatched a cruiser and so notified Mr. Kellogg Feb. 23, assuring him that forces would not be landed, and that the warship was sent for "moral effect," and to be a base of refuge for Britisher.

Not till the next day did Mr. Kellogg answer the British note. He then stated that "the American armed forces which have been landed in Nicaragua, are there to protect the people and forests. We are and properly we are pleased to extend to British subjects such protection as may be possible and proper under the circumstances."

WARSHIP ON WAY

BY GERALD MARTIN.

MANAGUA, Feb. 24.—The British light cruiser Colombo is expected to reach Corinto, on the west coast of Nicaragua, tomorrow to protect British interests, especially at Matagalpa, where no Americans are stationed.

Col. A. M. Steele, commanding officer.

The Colombo, which is attached to the British West Indies naval base at Bermuda, passed through the Panama canal tonight and sailed for Corinto. The cruiser came from St. Lucia, an island in the Lesser Antilles.

It is not believed that the British forces will land. The British gesture is held to be simply for the protection of the British subjects who make up the majority of business here.

The Colombo, which was built in 1918, has a tonnage of 4,190 tons, carries five 6 inch, two 3 inch, and four 3 pound guns, and a complement of 350 men. It has been sent because of the lack of guarantees by the Nicaraguan and American governments to protect British lives and property.

British Interests.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 24.—After a consultation with the foreign office the British admiral ordered the cruiser Colombo to proceed to Nicaragua to protect British interests.

Official circles emphasize that the ship is to be used only as a haven of refuge for the Britisher. It is denied that there are any differences with the policy of the United States or that the sending of the ship introduces any complications in the Nicaraguan situation.

It was said Great Britain does not want any trouble, and believes that the American marines will be sufficient to keep order.

The intimation that the Monroe doctrine was infringed by Great Britain's action is deplored here.

"We are, obviously, obliged to provide a ready and accessible means of escape from danger for our citizens in the case of outbreaks," an official said today. "The move has no further significance."

IODINE HIGHBALL PRETENDS IT'S SCOTCH, DRY RAIDER AVERS

"Some iodine, some alcohol, and plenty of nerve, that's the formula for a highball," says a Britisher. "Our agents seized on a truck yesterday," said Gus J. Simons, chief of personnel of the prohibition department. "This mixture might be good for goiter, but I rather think it will kill."

Prohibition agents arrested Julius Hildewin, 21 years old, driver employed by the Motorcycle Package company of 800 Main street, between State and Independence boulevard, and seized a truck containing two fifteen gallon kegs of the "scotch." A warrant has been obtained for George Snyder, manager of the transporting company.

protected. It is Great Britain's fundamental policy and there are no exceptions.

Maj. A. W. Bleor, the United States minister attached to Central America, arrived from Costa Rica with the intention of reporting to Washington the military situation. This morning he visited President Adolfo Diaz and the minister of war in company with Minister Charles E. Eberhardt and his assistant, Lawton D. Davis.

Mr. Bleor intimated to Tax Tamm, that he is here looking over the Nicaraguan national guard with a view to its reorganization.

Rear Admiral Julian Latimer is getting in touch with the Liberal rebel, Gen. Moncada with a view of obtaining his surrender. Sixteen hundred American marines are due to arrive on Saturday on the transport Henderson.

DANIELS' NAVAL BUNGLING NEARLY LOST WAR—SIMS

Raps 'Amateur Strategy' of Secretary, Wilson.

New York, Feb. 24.—[Special.]

The United States navy was so mishandled by Secretary of the Navy

Josephus Daniels during the world war, so many mistakes, delays and blunders were perpetrated, that the war was nearly lost, according to Rear Admiral William S. Sims in his World's Work.

Admiral Sims, who was in command of the U.S. fleet during the war, charged Mr. Daniels with opposing the convoy system and with delaying the dispatch of the anti-submarine vessels.

"Mr. Daniels' handling of the navy

during the first very critical months

after our declaration of war," writes

Admiral Sims, "was so amateurish and so lacking in established principles of warfare as to result in great losses of time, property and life; and . . .

his record shows him to be utterly untrustworthy as a historian."

Scots at Amateur Strategists.

In those when the administrative heads of government had military training and held their positions

by force of arms," writes the admiral in discussing the reasons for the faulty strategy pursued by this country at the outset of the war, "it was logical

for them to determine both the policy and strategy of warfare, but when the administrative officials can make no contribution to military knowledge such direction is bound to be unjustifiable but likely to be very dangerous."

"In the late war it unfortunately happened that our navy department, with a civilian, Josephus Daniels, as its dictatorial head, so guided the U.S. naval effort that no naval assistance whatever reached the allied during the first four weeks."

Takes Wilson to Task.

"This is master-strategy with a vengeance," writes Admiral Sims. "If the 'crushing' had succeeded at the cost of half the fleet, that would have left the U.S. in command of the Atlantic ocean and insured the defeat of the allies."

"This question was thoroughly dis-

WOMAN RECLUSE, RECKONED RICH, ILL OF HUNGER

Ada Garrett Taken from Little Hotel Room.

(Picture on back page.)
Ten years ago Ada Sawyer was a girl at Chicago's north side. She was the granddaughter of Justin Butterfield, a figure in early Chicago, and left him to his $1,000,000 estate. Her parents lived in the old mansion at the southwest corner of Cass and Ohio.
She and family name were known to at least four Chicago newspapers.

Wednesday Mrs. Ada Sawyer Garrett was taken to St. Luke's hospital. She had been taken there from a scantly furnished little hotel room at the interior of friends, who believed her to be suffering from lack of food.
Doctors said her condition is serious.

One of City's Wealthiest Women.

The lack of food, however, is said to be the self-imposed restriction.
Mrs. Garrett is regarded as a wealthy woman. Her acumen in handling the family fortune, which consisted mainly of real estate, is said to have increased her estate to several millions.

For the last four months Mrs. Garrett had lived in the Victoria hotel,
50 South Clark street. She paid $200 a day for her $2 lodging. Sometimes she had her meals brought to her room, but usually she went out to nearby restaurants. Hotel employees said that her clothing on these occasions was threadbare and that on the coldest days she wore no heavier protection than a little blouse.

Bunk Lends Nurse to Her.

About a month ago she became ill and could not go out to her usual haunts. She transacted business in her daily walk to the office of American Consul North Win-ship this morning. After the ceremony Mrs. Henry Payne Whitney, the bride's mother, entertained the couple at luncheon aboard the Scarab. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. O.

FILM POWERS TRY TO GAG CHAPLIN; SEE RUIN IN SUIT

Charley Refuses Pleas for Private Settlement.

New York, Feb. 24.—[Special.]—The greatest battle of the motion picture industry appears to be raging under the surface of the Chaplin divorce case, with the massed stars of the business on one side and Charlie Chaplin, alone, on the other.

Hollywood today sent word to Chaplin that for the good of the industry his case must be settled out of court. The comedian defiantly replied that he was innocent of the charges against him and would demand a fight to the finish in the courts with his wife, Lila Grey.

Acting as emissaries of the stars and producers, although ostensibly here on other business, Joseph M. Schenck and Samuel Goldwyn met Chaplin and his attorney, Nathan Burkman, this afternoon.

Seek to Protect Others.

The business giants found Chaplin ready to sacrifice every dollar before yielding to their demand. Facing the certainty that the trial of the case would involve the entire film industry and perhaps do grave injury to at least six feminine stars, they presented every argument, all in vain. They will remain, however, and every bit of pressure that can be brought to bear will be used on Chaplin.

The effort for public consummation that the visit of the Hollywood emissaries was to get Chaplin to consent to an alliance of United Artists with the Metro-Goldwyn combine. This, too, may be effected on the trip east, but overshadowing everything else in the motion picture business at the moment is the effort to keep the Chaplin trial from the courts.

WILL HAYS IS UMPIRE.

Standing aloof, but interested in every development, is Will Hays, the man chosen to screen the industry back into the good graces of the public after the Fatty Arbuckle trial. Hays' silence awaits developments.

Will Days to Amend Petition.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Lila Grey Chaplin today was allotted an additional ten days by the court in which to draw up an amended complaint of divorce against the movie comedian. Her lawyers had no comment to make as to whether Mrs. Chaplin will alter or add to her present charges against her husband.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—(AP)—France has not paid her war debt to this country, Representative Blanton (Dem., Tex.) tonight blocked passage of two bills which would have authorized two naval officers to accept decorations from the French government.

"I want France to know," Blanton declared, "that we want nothing from her except the money she owes us." The officers are Commander Robert E. Todd and Capt. Thomas L. Johnson.

ANGRY LA GRANGE MOVIE FRIENDS ACCUSE TEACHER

Already divided on the question of Sunday movies, citizens of La Grange last night were threatening to demand action against their superintendent of schools, G. W. Willett, because he closed the school and gave the pupils today off to help get the voters out for a special election to be held on the subject.

Those threatening to appeal to the county superintendent of schools were the ones favoring Sunday pictures. They asserted that Mr. Willett let the school children off to have them talk against Sunday movies.

Both sides say the issue is not one of morale but of zoning. A new $300,000 movie theater has been built in the heart of the residential district across the street from the Congregational church and only a block from the Methodist church.

Those against Sunday movies say a commercial enterprise has no right in the exclusive residential district; those for them call its presence a sign of progress.

MEXICO AGREES TO U. S. PROBE WITHIN LIMITS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
MEXICO CITY, Feb. 24.—The United States senate investigating committee proposed by Senator Borah would be welcomed here by the government. Foreign Minister Aaron Saenz said today. Mexico is eager to afford an opportunity for a full understanding on the international situation. However, Señor Saenz made it clear that the investigation must be confined to matters purely international.

"The opinion of this committee is that there would be no objections to an investigation in Mexico by any serious and influential persons on exclusively foreign Mexican problems and, consequently, if the committee from the United States senate should come here it would be well received officially and would be aided," Señor Saenz said.

Both sides say the issue is not one of zoning, but of zoning. A new $300,000 movie theater has been built in the heart of the residential district across the street from the Congregational church and only a block from the Methodist church.

New, from San Quentin, where he has served seven years of a term for second degree murder, received a setback here today. After an application to parole New had reached Gov. ### MODERATES GAIN

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
(Copyright 1927 by The Chicago Tribune.)

PEKING, Feb. 24.—The rift between the radical and moderate Nationalists is rapidly widening. Indications are that the soviet influence possibly will be overthrown, or at least greatly minimized.

A strong current in this direction is setting in owing to the growing disaffection of the substantial Chinese element, which is disgusted with the ceaseless waste and wholesale seizure of revenues by the northern militarists.

With the excessive labor demands incident to the activities of the soviet agitators, the moderate elements find the burden labor imposes equal to that imposed under the feudal system, wherefore the moderate Kuomintang is exerting greater pressure for the elimination of the soviet influence. Already Dr. C. T. Wang and Tang Sha-ye are laying the groundwork for a moderate party in the Shanghai district. Observers believe the moderates could sweep the county when the bolshevik element is removed from the dictatorship.

Hankow Frowns on Reds.

Hankow is reported to be growing more uncomfortable for the radicals. The desire is openly expressed for curbing labor and also for checking the border of the soviet in view of the latter's understanding of the British position toward all China. The boycott is growing more serious in the upper Yangtze district and unless this is checked it might compel the British to assume a firmer stand.

Private letters from Hankow indicate that Walford Peart and his wife, former Chicanians, who both have bolshevik tendencies, now are employed as propagandists for the national government and have announced their renunciation of their American citizenship and are seeking Chinese naturalization.

REDS GATHER IN NORTH

TOKIO, Feb. 24.—A reliable correspondent at Harbin says that there is no doubt of Russian military activities in Siberia, where local troops are gathering on the Manchurian border, augmented by troops arriving from Russia. Foreign travelers are allowed no stopovers in any point in Siberia.

Harbin is seething with signs of an impending revolution against Gen. Chang Te-ling, the Manchurian war lord. Police are making numerous arrests and are seizing communist and kuomintang literature. One foreign consul at Harbin says he has definite information regarding troop movements in Siberia, and also an official report of a battle near Fogranthai between Chinese troops and Manchurian bandits. About 200 were killed and 100 wounded. Several Russians carrying papers revealing a Russian plot to encourage and assist bands against Gen. Chang.

The recent feverish activity of the police, searching houses, arresting and executing, shows that the authorities are nervous.

Defeat of Troops by Yaquis Denied by Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 24.—Nothing is known of military circles here of the alleged defeat by the Yaqui Indians of 6,000 Mexican troops under Gen. Rios Zertuche, as reported from Los Angeles by Adolfo De La Huerta.

With the excessive labor demands incident to the activities of the soviet agitators, the moderate elements find the burden labor imposes equal to that imposed under the feudal system, wherefore the moderate Kuomintang is exerting greater pressure for the elimination of the soviet influence. Already Dr. C. T. Wang and Tang Sha-ye are laying the groundwork for a moderate party in the Shanghai district. ## ATTACKS CANADA HIGH TARIFF IN COMMONS DEBATE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 24.—Another declaration against the continuation of high tariffs in Canada was made on the floor of the Canadian commons yesterday. John Prandergeat, independent, said his province had long been misrepresented as favoring high protection. Quebec, he said, realized that rural communities suffered from high protection.

The independent member agreed that tariff reduction this session would be unwise, but with the tariff board still investigating, he said, after that the king government must recuse from its position of trying to please both high protectionists and low tariff sentiment and declare a policy.

Mr. Bourassa wanted war taxation left high in Canada to keep before the public's minds "the criminal folly that led this country into the war." Canada, he said, must decide whether it is to belong to itself or, as in the past, "be the instrument of an imperialistic policy in the Atlantic or the Pacific or elsewhere." He said the patriots of Canadians had been capitalized to pile up "blood-dipped fortunes."

INJURY TO KNEE KEEPS MIRACLE STAR IN HOSPITAL

Hollywood Cal., Feb. 24.—[Special]—Miss Elsie Patterson, one of the principals in the cast of The Miracle, sustained an injury on the stage during the performance of the spectacle last Tuesday night, and today was in Holywood hospital. According to Dr. Frank T. Clegg, the injury is not serious, and was the result of displacing the external semi-lunar cartilage in her left knee.

Miss Patterson's knee was placed in a cast to give it rest and keep the cartilage in position.

Miss Patterson was kneeling during one of the scenes, and when she tried to arise she found she could not do so. The lights were switched off on the stage automatically, and others helped her to her feet. She finished the performance, but was taken to the hospital and Miss Iris Tree assumed the rôle of the nun.

Dr. Ryan said: "She will be in the cast for three weeks. Her condition is fine. She passed a comfortable day." Miss Patterson will leave the hospital and return to her hotel tomorrow.

TAXATION RATES ANNOUNCED FOR SUBURBAN TOWNS

Are Generally Higher in Western Villages.

Suburban towns west of Chicago attained the enviable distinction yesterday of having higher tax rates, as a rule, than their northern or southern neighbors. The rates, as announced by County Clerk Robert M. Swietzer, averaged from two to three dollars higher per $100 assessed valuation than the Chicago rates.

The average suburban Evanston was most fortunate. Its tax rate being comparatively low. The city was divided into four districts and in two of these districts there was a decrease in the tax rate. The following table shows the Evanston rates per $100 assessed valuation compared with the preceding year:

District	1925.	1926.
School dist. No. 73, No. park.	$11.38	$11.38
west park	11.45	11.38
School dist. No. 75, No. park.	11.30	11.41
Forest Park	11.38	11.41

Maywood Rate Is Highest.

The highest tax rate was in Maywood, where the citizens must pay taxes on a rate of $12.86 in comparison with a rate of $12.83 the preceding year. Other rates for western suburbs were: Oak Park, $12.61; River Forest, $12.41; Berwyn, $12.69; Forest Park, $12.64.

The average tax rate in Chicago is $7.80 and $10 per $100 assessed valuation. Theoretically, the property owner in Chicago pays a tax bill of $90 or $100 on property assessed at $1,000, while he would pay $120 or $130 on the same amount of property in a suburb. Actually, the assessed values of suburban property run lower.

Crowds Flock to Parks as Thermometer Rises

Bright sunshine and temperatures more like those usual in May than in February, prevailed in Chicago yesterday and thousands flocked to the parks for strolls. The highest thermometer reading was 52 degrees. Today, according to official forecast, there will be unsettled skies and lower temperatures. The prediction adds, however, that the mercury probably will remain above the normal for this period, which is 28 degrees.

CALL POLITICAL EINSTEINS FOR VOTE ANALYSIS

Various Camps Get Set for Dever vs. Bill.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Deneen-Brundage ward committee men will meet today to consider what to do in the mayoralty campaign. The lead session for the conference is expected to be a discussion of how many Democratic votes were cast for William Hale Thompson in Tuesday's primaries.

Managers of Edward R. Litsinger, who was defeated by Bill by 180,000, have raised the question, "Is Thompson a Republican or a Democratic candidate?" The personalities exchanged in the pre-primary fight have left a crop of resentment that was bitter yesterday, and the postmortem of the primary returns, which will be held at the Morrisia hotel, promises to be one of the liveliest in years.

It's Problem for Einstein.

The camp of Dr. John Dill Robertson and Fred Lundin took a hand in the postmortem yesterday. After putting the primary results through the separator the Robertson partisans declared it appeared to them that Thompson had so many Democratic votes in his total poll of 342,000 that Litsinger's lead would be broken at least even if only the votes of Republicans had been counted.

In all groups the figures still were being studied, and every statistician made up his own line.

Roll Your Own Theorem.

In 14 strong Democratic wards, one tabulation showed, the vote cast for Republican candidates was twice as large as for the Democratic nominees. Mayor Dever, who had no fight, in these 14 Democratic strongholds, Thompson got 75,250 votes as against 45,643 polled for Mayor Dever. Of Thompson's plurality, no less than 49,700 came from this west side Democratic area. Litsinger and Lundin combined polled 33,300 votes in these 14 wards—more than twice the Dever vote.

Again in eight south side Democratic wards, Thompson polled 41,000 votes, as compared with 36,600 for Dever.

Democratic leaders, viewing these figures, said Thompson had exerted his full strength Tuesday as a primary candidate, and that in the election he will poll fewer votes than he did last Tuesday. They figured that at least 50 per cent of the Democrats who voted for Thompson did so only to make him Dever's opponent and that they will be back of Dever in the election April 5.

Forsee Dever Victory.

These leaders estimate that Thompson will not get more than half the voters who voted for Litsinger, if that many, and this gain will be more than offset by the loss of Democratic primary votes. Mayor Dever, they say, will get the backing of a large

ALD. ALBERT BACKERS OPEN FIGHT TODAY TO UPSET HAFFA VICTORY

A storm of protest in the Deneen camp over the apparent defeat of Ald. A. F. Albert [44d] by Titus Haaffa, is scheduled to break with a roar before the board of election commissioners today.

The Deneen leaders last night announced two lines of attack. A delegation will present the board with evidence that Albert was cheated out of at least 150 votes. At the same time, the aldermen will file trial board charges that acting captain of the Hudson avenue station, aided Haaffa's henchmen on election day.

We are going to take the whole rotten lot," a spokesman declared after a Deneen war council last night. "We will not only show up Haaffa's trickery, but will force the election to a runoff."

The delegation visiting the election commissioners will be headed by John McCabe and Harry Eugene Kelly, president of the Union League club, whose aid has been enlisted.

They will attempt to show that 167 votes for Haaffa belong to other aldermen who should have gone to Michael Wolf, a third candidate.

In the 6th precinct, where Haaffa received 276 to Albert's 90, they will charge that judges and clerks were terrorized and ballot boxes opened in a rear room.

The election commissioners are expected to reach the 43d ward sometime before noon today. The canvas yesterday covered about half the city, settling the aldermanic elections in all other disputed wards.

Ald. Charles S. Eaton [5th] was always defeated by Leonard J. Grossman, Democrat, by 116 votes, with one precinct missing.

Complete official returns in the 7th ward showed that Ald. Ross A. Woodhull fell by 140 votes to get a majority and must go to a runoff with Charles F. Mayer, a Thompsonite. Mayer received 7,667 votes. Woodhull 10,432, and a third entry 2,705.

Ald. Robert E. Barbee's defeat in the 17th ward was substantiated. His opponent, James G. Coyle, received 6,764 to 6,706 for Barbee.

Republican and independent vote that stayed at home Tuesday.

Few political wheels are expected to be turning until next week. George E. Brennan is due to return from Miami Monday and the Democrats will start at once on their organization work. The task is that the speaking campaign will not be started for a week or more. The plan is to make use of press or forums or during the election.

Mr. Thompson took a delegation to Washington yesterday in the interest of the Boulder Dam bill. He is expected back Monday. Homer K. Galpin and Mr. Thompson, it was reported, expect to discuss politics with Senator Deneen and other national leaders while in Washington. Conjecture was abundant in political circles that some sort of understanding may be suggested by Mr. Galpin whereby Senator Deneen might be given aid in trying to secure control of the Illinois delegation to the Republican national convention next year in return for real support from the Deneen forces for the Thompson mayoralty campaign.

DOUBLE INQUIRY BEGUN ON VOTE FRAUD CHARGES

One Election Worker Is Jailed for 90 Days.

With the sentencing of an election worker to jail for ninety days on a charge of attempting to vote under an assumed name, investigation of alleged fraud in last Tuesday's primaries was begun from two angles yesterday.

County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki found Edward Costes, colored, 29 years old, guilty of attempting to vote in the Fifty-third precinct of the Second ward under the name of Lorenz Miller and imposed the jail sentence. It was the first of fifty cases growing out of the recent election.

Prosecutors Inspect Affidavits.

After a sharp conflict before Judge William J. Lindsay, chief justice of the Criminal court, between the state's attorney's office and the board of election commissioners, the work of looking over 15,500 affidavits was started by assistant state's attorneys with a representative of the election board looking on.

These affidavits were filed before the primaries, and caused the mailing of as many summonses to persons alleged to have no legal right to vote. It has been charged that filing of the affidavits was part of a plot to prevent many registered voters from casting their votes.

Judge Settles Dispute.

Special Prosecutor Thomas Marshall and Assistant State's Attorney Harold Levy wanted to investigate the affidavits in the privacy of their offices but Judge Lindsay ruled that the election board should have the original possession of the documents. Adequate arrangements were made so that the examination could be conducted in the state's attorney's office in the county, building with a representative of the election board present.

According to Prosecutor Levy, one man questioned admitted signing 400 affidavits and a girl admitted signing at least 100 affidavits without any knowledge of the facts stated therein.

Wilmette Residents Angry Over Omission of Hoffman

Following a stormy session in the Wilmette town hall yesterday over the omission from the Home party ticket of the name of Paul A. Hoffman, candidate for trustee and the substitution of the name of Nicholas Miller, friends of Hoffman arranged to hold another cause. They will meet March 5 to place him on the ticket, organizing an independent party if necessary. Hoffman has been a trustee for six years.

Chief Blames Runowski; Presses Inquiry.

Another victim of the revolver battle between two policemen Tuesday night, John Wilgolski, alias Wilgolak, died of his wounds late yesterday in the Ravenswood hospital. Detective Richard Nash of the East Chicago Richard Nash died Wednesday night.

Wilgolski and Michael Mohr, 36, were shot by Nash, a veteran policeman, who was killed by Policeman Frank Runowski, a probationer, of the Rogers Park station. Runowski was wounded.

Shocked by the two deaths, due apparently to a petty quarrel between the two policemen, Chief Collins and Assistant State's Attorney Samuel Schlesinger started an investigation, predicting that Runowski and Mohr may face murder charges.

"It was a disgraceful affair," Chief Collins declared.

Believes Nash Was Right.

"I'm what I learn, Nash was attacked and he fired in self-defense. He had an excellent fifteen year record. If fuller investigation proves what is reported to me now I shall not protect his assailants."

Nash had left Chicago avenue station according to the story as told in the chief shortly before he cut his way across Grant and Lincoln streets in front of that driven by Runowski. Mohr and Mohr were in the back seat of Runowski's car.

The three, it was reported, had made a round of road houses during the afternoon, and Wilgolski and Mohr were drunk.

They followed Nash into the alleyway behind his station and threatened him, according to the report given to Chief Collins. Nash refused to be moved so the story went, and both Mohr and Runowski began shooting. Nash emptied his revolver before he fled.

Nash's Daughter Talks.

Nash's daughter Julia, waiting for him to come home, told the chief's investigators that she heard a voice, not her father's, shout, "Stick 'em up!" just before the shooting began.

Police officials scoffed at reports that the quarrel started over the question of auto driving.

Nash has been active against vice leaders, who had threatened "to get him," they said. Wilgolak, it was revealed, had a police record, having served three months in the Bridewell for robbery.

The coroner's inquest, called for yesterday afternoon, was postponed until March 3, when it is expected. Dr. Haskin and Mohr, who are both in the Ravenswood hospital, will be able to testify. The policeman meanwhile has been suspended and both put under guard. The inquest will be held at the North Robey station.

ASK CLOUTURE TO END FILIBUSTER ON BOULDER DAM

H. Johnson Files Petition; Vote on It Tomorrow.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—(Special)—Advocates of the Boulder canyon dam bill resorted today to closure in their final attempt to break down the filibuster against it in the Senate.

A cloture petition was filed by Senator Johnson (Rep., Cal.), and Vice President Dawes announced that the question of limiting debate would be put to a vote at one o'clock sharp on Saturday. If two-thirds of the senate vote in the affirmative no senator may thereafter speak more than one hour. It is expected that if the cloture motion carries a final vote on the bill will be reached by Saturday night.

Sufficient Votes in Doubt.

There is some question, however, whether the necessary two-thirds vote can be mustered. If cloture fails, Republican leaders will at once order the bill dispensed with in order to make way for other legislation during the closing days of the session.

An unusual feature of the course taken by Senator Johnson was that he has throughout his service in the Senate consistently opposed the use of cloture.

"Upon this bill there exists a flagrant, bold and admitted filibuster," said Senator Johnson. "The day after I have now accepted the only course remaining—cloture.

"My prejudices my past votes, my present views fade into insignificance before the imminent danger and peril of the people of southern California, and I yield my views to their pressing necessities."

Seek to Force Tyson Bill Veto.

A joint resolution to close off the session was introduced yesterday on the day on the Tyson bill conferring retirement privileges on disabled emergency officers of the army. ## WASHINGTON NOTES

(By the Associated Press.)

The federal reserve board authorized a branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, at San Antonio, contingent on signature of the McFadden branch banking bill by the President. President Coolidge signed the bill providing appropriations for the state, justice, commerce, and labor departments.

The Senate asked Secretary Kellogg by resolution whether companies in which Edward L. Doheny, Harry F. Sinclair, or the Mellon interests are interested are among those holding oil concessions in Mexico or whether these companies have accepted the new Mexican oil concessions.

Special medals to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the meeting of the continental congress at York, Pa., on Sept. 30, 1777, would be struck by the treasury under a bill reported by the house coinage committee.

The Senate approved construction of a chain of three bridges spanning the St. Lawrence river at Collins Landing, N. Y. The first would extend from Collins Landing to Wells island, the second from Wells island to Hill island, and the third thence to the Canadian shore between Brockville and Gananoque, Ontario. The measure also passed the house.

The Senate passed a bill to authorize a naval ammunition depot at Hawthorne, Nev. It stipulated that the cost should not exceed $3,500,000.

Dry Bill Caught in Senate Jam.

The bill creating a bureau of prohibition in the treasury department is among those caught in the legislative jam in the Senate. Its supporters have not given up hope that this measure, already approved by the house, can be put through before Congress adjourns, one week from tomorrow.

The situation eased up sufficiently today to permit the approval of the most deficiency appropriation bill. That included a one-dollar revision that tax refunds above $75,000 should not be paid until sixty days after reporting the amounts to the Joint Congressional Commission on Internal Revenue Taxation.

GLEOCOE VOTES TOMORROW ON $149,000 BONDS

A special Glencoe election on three proposed bond issues for a total of $149,000 will be held tomorrow.

If approved $75,000 will be expended for a park at Hazel and Lucretia avenues, $55,000 for a municipal garbage incinerator, and $19,000 for water supply improvements.

Evanstonians will be asked to vote on a $65,000 bond issue for the erection of a new fire engine house if an ordinance to be presented to the city council by Ald. Peter N. James next Tuesday is passed.

and declared he would squander the entire estate within five years. She also declared she had received no income from the estate and lamented the fact that her father had omitted her from a trusteeship in the estate.

Explains Leiter's Motive.

"He did not appoint her a trustee," declared Attorney Platt. "Because he did not think it proper that the management of his estate should be left to the wife of a foreign nobleman whose aspirations were too great to be satisfied by the modest estate bequeathed him by marriage settlement or otherwise."

Others of Lady Curzon's letters quoted by the lawyer told Mrs. Campbell that "George [Lord Curzon] says, 'Tell Nan we want to act with her. I don't suppose she is any more keen on going bust than we are.'" About that, Attorney Platt said:

"The language is not as eloquent as I would have anticipated from the viceroy. It is almost as expressive as a child in its lack of polish, but I think the meaning is plain.

"She [Lady Curzon] says she must save all her income for her beloved Lord Curzon; she must save every penny for him, seeming to think that if she should die he would be left penniless. But he was pretty well secured under the terms of the $700,000 dowry agreement and settlement made immediately prior to his marriage."

Not long after the letters were written, in 1906, Lady Curzon died, and since that time the income has been paid, chiefly through Lord Curzon, to his three daughters, Lady Cynthia Mosley, the baroness of Ravensdale, and Lady Alexandra Mabel.

That Lord Curzon took for his own use the Leiter gold which should have been preserved for his children until they became of age was broadly hinted by Attorney Platt when he quoted a letter from the Baroness Ravensdale in which she told of the embarrassments she suffered from lack of income.

"During those years Lord Curzon was paid approximately $2,000,000 for his daughter's," Mr. Platt said. "Yet when he died the Baroness Ravensdale was not brought to a sufficient influence by the great payments made by the estate to her father in her behalf."

Mr. Platt will resume today.

an increase in value of more than $5,000,000.

Addressing himself to the charge that the accusations against Leiter were the culmination of a conspiracy by certain members of the nobility of Europe, Mr. Platt quoted a letter written by the late Lord Suffolk to Major Campbell. In it Lord Suffolk wrote his sister-in-law that her brother would be forced by the courts out of the trusteeship of the estate unless he resigned. He asked Mrs. Campbell to meet him in London to talk over means of deposing Leiter.

"I do not criticize Lady Suffolk for cleaving to the side of her husband, taking his people as hers, and abjuring those of her own blood—and probably so because she has purchased one of the proudest titles of Europe. But I do resent her scheming to destroy the ties that are left in that family."

Mr. Platt will resume today.

Michael Ryan, 58 years old, a mail carrier, was found dead in Garfield park, near Madison street, yesterday. He had been stabbed in the throat and an ice pick with which the wound was made was clasped in one of his hands.

The police believe that he committed suicide while despondent over ill health. Ryan, who lived at 4132 West Washington boulevard, was the father of five children.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—(Special)—Proposed extension of the Reed sediment control committee led to bitter exchange of personal attacks yesterday.

INDIANA SENATOR QUOTES WILSON TO ASSAIL REED

Robinson Calls Slush Quiz Political Move.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—(Special)—Proposed extension of the authority of the Reed senatorial slush committee led today to the most intense exchange of personalities that has taken place on the floor of the Senate at the present session.

Senator James A. Reed [Dem., Mo.], whose state came under fire of the committee in its inquiries during the chief part of the last session, failed to obtain action on his resolution extending the authority of his committee into the next session.

The deluge of debate that followed the calling up of this resolution prevented a vote before it was automatically displaced at the close of the morning business period. Senator Reed announced that he would make another effort to obtain action tomorrow.

Questions Reed's Motive.

The Illinois senator started an attack upon the work of the Reed committee and charged that the purpose in continuing its authority was to further the presidential ambitions of Senator Reed.

Referring to the investigation of the Illinois election situation Senator Reed said he had "drove a Mahogany wagon" into his state with the sole purpose of obtaining material with which to defeat Senator Watson [Rep., Ind.] and himself, the two Republican senatorial nominees. Senator Reed, Senator Robinson suggested, was once described by Woodrow Wilson as "the most dangerous man in the country."

If the resolution is approved, Senator Robinson declared, it would mean that the Missouri senator would wander over the country at the expense of the government conducting his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination at the expense of the taxpayers.

James Robinson Is Afraid.

Denouncing what he described as "narrow and malicious" accusations Senator Reed hit back at Senator Robinson, and accused him of being "absolutely and unequivocally false." He declared the Indiana senator was "excited over the possibility of an investigation of some corruption," and that "naturally he is afraid of it."

Interrupting Senator Reed to reply to one of his statements, Senator Rosen assured him that if the Missouri senator desired to deal in personalities he could also do so and that he "had the information at hand." Thoroughly angered, Senator Reed demanded to know what he meant, but Senator Robinson declined to furnish a bill of particulars.

Senator Watson confirmed a statement by Senator Reed that the latter had gone to Indianapolis and to the hospital in response to a telegraphic request from himself. Senator Reed, Senator Watson said, had shown him every courtesy. Senator Watson added, however, that he objected to the terms of the resolution because it "would give the committee a roving commission to go around the country for the next year and a half."

THE BRITISH AND NICARAGUA

The British chargé d'affaires in Managua has given the Nicaraguan foreign minister and the American minister a note from his government saying that unless guarantees from the native government and the United States can assure the protection of British lives and property in various parts of the country the British government will be obliged to send a naval squadron and give the protection itself.

Intervention in Central American affairs by the United States is not desirable, but the United States cannot ask European nations to stand aside if their people are threatened with injury. The United States assumes the responsibility for conditions when it asks other nations to keep their hands off.

One of the apparent dangers of permitting affairs to get out of control is that other countries will be brought into the situation. A British squadron is at Bermuda and could soon be in Nicaraguan waters.

A request from the United States that it not sent on this errand must carry the assurance that it will not be needed. America, in fumbling with such a problem, under the influence of the obstructionists at home, makes trouble for itself both ways. The Monroe Doctrine works both ways, as the American state department has endeavored to explain to its critics.

Nicaragua can be taken out of troubled waters by American administration, and Gerald Martin, THE TRIBUNE correspondent in Managua, says there is an increasing feeling in Nicaragua that administration of affairs in some such fashion as Haiti is administered offers the only chance of getting peace, order, and stability. There is a national pride which makes it difficult to put this conviction into action, but the common sense of it is imperative.

In the liberal, as named, criticism of American state department procedure in Nicaragua there is the assumption that Nicaragua has a constitutional form of government to which the leaders adhere, that there are laws governing free elections and that they prevail and that there is an electorate capable of operating under the constitution and the laws.

This is fiction. There is a constitution modeled after the American and inoperative. There are laws for elections, which the American state department assisted in drafting. They are inoperative. What is called the electorate is illiterate and unready and unfit to assume any of the responsibilities which a form of government purely fictional appears to put upon it.

There are American educated leaders such as Sabacosa, who is known as the Liberal. Diaz, recognized as president by the United States, is another. There are literates who can argue a cause, but they cannot make one in political action because of the impossibility of erecting a constitutional government.

CAIRO.—The rebels before evacuating Clarksville, Tenn., burned the rail road bridge across the Cumberland at that point.

INDIANAPOLIS.—Gov. Morton appointed former Gov. Joseph A. Wright United States senator to fill the place of Jesse D. Bright, ousted by the senate because of his anti-Union sentiments. Mr. Wright is a Douglas Democrat.

President Taft had bad luck with his effort to establish reciprocity, but the economic unity of Canada and the United States is coming sooner or later because it is fundamentally profitable to both people. Broadly speaking, our economic and social conditions are similar and tariff barriers between the two commonwealths are no more desirable in the long run and from the viewpoint of our common welfare than tariff barriers between the states or provinces. Unescapable and highly beneficial economic tendencies are steadily multiplying the bonds of union and commerce and it would be shortsighted and constructive statesmanship to free them from artificial obstruction and hasten a conclusion not only beneficial but foreordained.

We trust Mr. McMillan's appeal will bring about an early consideration between Washington and Ottawa of the tariff relations of the two nations. This is an opportunity for the new Canadian ambassador and we trust any approach he is disposed to make will be promptly welcomed by our government.

RELATIONS WITH RUSSIA.

The British experience with soviet Russia summarized by Sir Austen Chamberlain is worth attention in the United States. We think it answers Mr. Borah's plea for recognition of the soviet republic and emphatically supports our government's policy under three Presidents. The British have been trying to get along with soviet Russia and have had enough of it. They established diplomatic relations with Moscow and have been repaid with a ruthless enemy working openly and secretly against the interests of the empire and with plotting against the peace and security of the British people at home. So far as we can see, recognition got the British nothing. But it undoubtedly added to the prestige of the communist government and increased its ability to make international mischief. Any advantages procured for Britain trade through recognition have failed, it seems, to compensate Great Britain for the nuisance of communist plotting.

Our own situation is different from that of Great Britain in some degree. Our interests in Asia are less important and our internal conditions are more stable. On the other hand, we are not in pressing need of Russian trade and we can well afford to adopt a course of action based upon consistency, sincerity, and respect for our own conceptions of international right. We have told Moscow, as Sir Austen now tells them, that we are not concerned with the domestic affairs of the Russian people. If they choose communism instead of individualism, proletarian dictatorship instead of democracy, bureaucracy instead of free enterprise, suppression of free utterance, expropriation of property, etc., that is a responsibility of the Russian people, not ours. But when the bolshevik régime repudiates international obligations formally contracted by a previous government and when it initiates and maintains a system of interference in our domestic affairs which, however futile in our case, is intended to subvert our institutions and destroy our civil order, we have sound reasons for refusing relations with it.

Diplomatic recognition and intercourse have not inclined soviet Russia to friendly relations. Its rulers are remorseless enemies of the United States, as of Great Britain, and we are wise in refusing political intercourse with them. When a Russian government appears which will keep faith and act as a friend acts the United States will be the first to extend recognition and offer friendly intercourse. But not until then, we trust.

CLERICAL DEMAGOGY.

Dr. Louis L. Mann, rabbi of Sinai temple, was one of the speakers at a Washington celebration dinner of the American Citizenship foundation. Rear Admiral William A. Moffett was another. Dr. Mann found Admiral Moffett's argument for prudence and rationality in national defense disturbing if not offensive.

The rabbi said he stood in "defiance of Decaturism," and his "my country, right or wrong." The rabbi said some American citizens take to misinterpretation and distort Decatur's sentiment is considerable. Dr. Mann was industrious at it. He said that Teapot Dome was an exhibit of the need of criticism and that government scandals called for more of it. "A democracy that would smother frank opinion will deteriorate into maoocracy."

The leadership which takes a democracy into democracy is that of the demagogue. The art of the demagogue is in irrelevance.

His genius is to persuade people that A should be elected governor to build hard roads because B does not believe the moon is made of green cheese, that a candidate for mayor is qualified if he does not like George V., and that if a man is the father of sixteen children in a vine clad cottage he necessarily would be a wise and distinguished United States senator.

The demagogue works for decisions from factors which have nothing to do with them. If Dr. Mann could explain what Teapot Dome has to do with the international relations of the United States he could escape the charge that he spoke as a demagogue. He might do so if he could explain what relation loyalty in time of national emergency has to do with criticism of government policies in times of peace.

The Decatur sentiment has its explicit limitation: "In her intercourse with foreign nations." It was the toast of an American officer. As such he had no part in making the decisions of his country in her foreign relations. That was the privilege of civilians who later would have no part in meeting the military consequences of these decisions.

Nothing other than the Decatur sentiment could exist in a man sworn to the obligations of military honor. For citizens in civil life the meaning is perfectly plain. It is a pledge of loyalty in such times as require above all other considerations that attribute of citizenship, when the lack of it would endanger the country.

It is demagogery to obscure or distort this. If the United States is to have religion introduced as a principal element in politics it will be found that politics has introduced elements into religion. One thus introduced inevitably will be the demagogue.

NEITHER FORTS NOR TARIFF WALLS.

In the Canadian house of commons a Liberal member, Mr. McMillan, has just made a plea for removal of negotiations with us for reciprocity. The Liberal party is now in power and it has been a friend of reciprocity, so we may venture to hope that Mr. McMillan's appeal will be heard. It should be heard on this side of the line as well.

A prompt reply from the floor of the house of representatives would not be out of place, and if the administration should take a vigorous initiative we think conditions would prove to be favorable to success both in Canada and the United States.

President Taft had bad luck with his effort to establish reciprocity, but the economic unity of Canada and the United States is coming sooner or later because it is fundamentally profitable to both people. Broadly speaking, our economic and social conditions are similar and tariff barriers between the two commonwealths are no more desirable in the long run and from the viewpoint of our common welfare than tariff barriers between the states or provinces. Unescapable and highly beneficial economic tendencies are steadily multiplying the bonds of union and commerce and it would be shortsighted and constructive statesmanship to free them from artificial obstruction and hasten a conclusion not only beneficial but foreordained.

We trust Mr. McMillan's appeal will bring about an early consideration between Washington and Ottawa of the tariff relations of the two nations.

This is an opportunity for the new Canadian ambassador and we trust any approach he is disposed to make will be promptly welcomed by our government.

ONE HEFLIN IS A LOT. (The Milwaukee Journal)

Providence in its inscrutable wisdom and for the sake of Alabama created a Heflin, Alabama, perhaps reasoning that there ought to be one of everything in the national capitol. It seems to me that the title of senator. It seems to be a wind instrument and perhaps should be classified with the old fashioned kazoo, once dear to the heart of youth. Senator Heflin spoke for over three hours in the Senate Thursday, something about Heflin and the Catholics and Heflin and Mexico and Heflin and war. The Senate stands for that kind of thing because senators don't have to stay and listen. Heflin got the floor again Friday and broadcast that metropolitan newspapers and their Washington correspondents had a "suppressed" the truth about his speech. Here was a sample of that heroic effort:

"I know I am doing a dangerous thing. A Catholic bullet brought Roosevelt down, but citizens of Maryland have pledged me that if I am murdered, many Catholic priests will pay the penalty, and the pontiffs higher up will be attended to first. If anything happens to me I want what has been written to me in letters from Maryland, Alabama, Texas and South Carolina to be carried out. Never mind what it is. But I have suggested a course to carry on the work if I am killed."

That the wires weren't clogged sending out three hours and a half more of this seems to show a fair degree of common sense. But the only reason conceivable for suppressing "the truth about" Heflin's speech, if any one thought that worth while, must have been some idea of kindness—a kindness evidently not appreciated by the self-pictured martyr from Alabama.

WARM HOUSES WITH LOW FUEL BILLS.

R. SAM LEWIS uses the Aeroblast, a sort of reformed golfer. Having repented his sins as a golfer, this man attained a warm, comfortable home as a heavenly reward. For a golfer to come within one letter of heaven is news, according to Leach and Carroll and other textbooks on journalism.

This particular repentant took up house painting as a result of his golfing hobby. He lived in a well kept, fairly old, frame residence, situated in a suburban town. He decided to make all parts of the house comfortable in cold, windy weather, and incidentally to save on the bill will soon pay off what excess in building cost was not wiped out by saving in the purchase of radiators.

The cost of heat losses through masonry walls is also large. Air passes readily through brick, stone, and mortar, even when it is new. After his conversion, and incidentally, he painted through several years there are always some visible cracks and millions of invisible ones through which heat flows out all winter long.

ACIDOSIS SIMPLIFIED.

E. W. W. writes: Some time ago I noticed an article on acidosis. The difficulty with it is that it is intelligible only to people who know all about it already. The thing that would be useful is a plain statement of:

1. In what this condition consists?

2. Whether merely acid conditions in the stomach and especially the rising of acid or alkali fluid in the blood constitute acidosis, and what the significance of these conditions is.

3. What sort of foods are desirable under such circumstances?

REPLY.

I am sorry I failed to make the matter plain in 1925. Recently I wrote another article on the same subject. Let us hope it will be wiser in 1927. I will repeat my answer:

"Fortunately, a fair part of the population knows something about the subject and possibly, therefore, can learn more.

But unfortunately, the subject is not as simple as A. B. and C. and no one can reduce it below a certain level.

While you are now waiting for the article, which I now advertise, you might consider the following: Since you know all about your condition and come up to certain points:

1. A decrease in the normal alkaline condition of the tissues.

2. They have no relation to the question.

3. The kind of acidity the diet should be rich in fruits and vegetables and poor in meat, eggs, bread and cereals. In the other kind it should be rich in cereals, bread and other carbohydrates and poor in fats and greases.

HARDING WINS POINT IN BATTLE OVER TAX BILLS

Gets Books from Sweitzer —Asks for Help.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.
County Treasurer Harding appears to have won yesterday's round in his battle with President Cermak of the County board over the tax bills. Harding desires that task. He asserts the measures he has taken to do it. For the past two years the tax bills and returns have been prepared by the tax division under the county and the bills, which were sent to the treasurer to do what I am told, were never paid. They have prepared the bills, written the receipts, addressed the envelope put in the bills and sealed them. All they did was to get out the stamps while I am told.

President Cermak said twice last week that the tax machine division would make out the bills and receipts which is how the tax books and records were turned over to the county clerk for his certification.

County Clerk Sweitzer is said to have looked up the law and decided that he is required to turn the tax books over to the treasurer when they are completed and so instructed his subordinates. They have turned over five volumes to the treasurer. The chances of changing the Sweitzer ruling are very remote for he has gone south for a month's vacation.

Ordered to that order will prevent the tax machine office from making out the bills before the treasurer obtains the books. He has declined to turn the books back to the tax machine office.

Files Petition for Help.

"Mr. Hardin filed his petition yesterday for help with which to get out the tax bills and receipts. It was done by the committee on help of the Circuit Court, Judges Matchett, Wilson, and Bartelsmeier. The petition said that J. L. Jacobs—county's board efficiency expert—had estimated the cost at $71,100, or the equivalent of about 36 annual jobs at $2,000 a year each, for which the petition asked. At the hearing, which was executive, were President Cermak, Jacobs, and several county commissioners, Harding, and his lawyer.

It is understood that George Lanigan, attorney for Harding, and Henry Berger, attorney for Cermak, are to decide upon a plan by which the question at issue can get into the State Supreme court and report back to the three judges this morning. Then they will meet and decide what recommendation they will make to all the Circuit court judges at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, when a decision will be announced.

Plan Aviation Field.
Upon petition of Maj. Gen. Roy D. Keen, the county board said yesterday it will set aside space in the forest preserve for an aviation field to be built by the Red Cross for the use of the Illinois National Guard. The board also appropriated $95,000 to the Illinois Training school for nursing at the County hospital; but the board also provided for a supervisory nurse, to be selected by the medical staff of the County hospital, to check upon this expenditure by the school. To gain more space in the county building, $250,000 was set aside for another story in the court of the building. The annual county budget will be completed today.

HILLIARD, STAGE IDOL OF LONG AGO, CRITICALLY ILL

New York, Feb. 24.—[Special]—Robert Hilliard, Broadway matinee idol many years ago, whose first wife, Mrs. Cora-Bell Hilliard, died in Brooklyn yesterday, tonight lay critically ill at his apartment. He was described by doctors as "a picture of health when may last a month, hardly longer." Hilliard, who is now in his 60's, is, according to his physician, suffering from a combination of diabetes, a bad heart, and a general rundown condition.

Mr. Edens said that Speaker Longworth (Rep., O.) has been invited to address the Hamilton club this spring and has taken the invitation under advisement.

Andrew Russel, former state treasurer of Illinois, and Representative William E. Hull (Rep., Ill.) discussed the farm bill with the President today. Mr. Russel said he told the President that signing of the measure would have a good psychological effect on the farmers in the middle west.

Hundreds of telegrams both for and against the bill came from the White House. The majority came from the middle west, but scores were received from eastern farmers and business men.

Urge France Withdraw Troops from Saar Valley

NEW CHARGES AGAINST COOPER BROADEN INQUIRY

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—[AP]—New attacks against the fitness of Judge Frank Cooper to sit on the Northern New York federal District bench were considered today by the house judiciary committee to be well enough founded to warrant further investigation.

The nature of the charges was not made public, but the committee decided to resume open hearings Monday, when Representative La Guardia (Rep., N. Y.) will present witness who, he claims, will substantiate his contention that the New York jurist should be impeached.

Until today La Guardia had confined his attacks to the allegation that Judge Cooper conspired with prohibition agents to trap liquor law violators, but he said his charges include more serious allegations of general incompetence.

The committee decided to subpoena La Guardia's witnesses after prolonged secret sessions which began yesterday with the New York representative present.

LAKE DIVERSION VITAL TO SEAWAY, HUGHES IS TOLD

Barnes Asserts Present
Flow Is Required.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Testimony that a water diversion from Lake Michigan is vital to the success of the Lakes-to-the-Gulf waterway was given today in the hearing before Charles Evans Hughes, special master in the lake levels controversy.

M. G. Barnes, chief engineer for the Illinois division of waterways, was the witness who made the statement. Cutting off the present diversion, he asserted, would destroy all chances for an outlet to the gulf and render worthless millions of dollars in improvements which have been made on the Illinois waterway.

Capitalized Loss $750,000.

Barnes estimated the capitalized loss which could be caused by shutting off the diversion at $750,000,000. He asserted that the annual loss to shipping interests if water transportation through the Illinois waterway is rendered impossible, would be $30,000,000 annually.

Counsel for the Chicago sanitary district, the state of Illinois, and allied Mississippi Valley states, placed witnesses on the stand to refute the allegations of Wisconsin and other lake states that the water diversion at Chicago should be stopped, as the waterway could be operated without it.

Illinois advocates, led by Attorneys George F. Barrett and Cyrus E. Dietz, who examined the witness, contended that the $3,000,000 authorized by Congress in December for the construction of the Illinois waterway, would be absolutely wasted without a diversion from Lake Michigan.

Contradicts War Department.

Questioned as to what would be the result in the present water diversion of $3,000 cubic second feet was cut to 1,000 cubic second feet, the amount which the war department says is sufficient to permit the construction of a workable waterway from Lake Michigan to the Mississippi, Barnes asserted

DEATH PENALTY BILL FOR SLAYERS PASSED BY MICHIGAN HOUSE

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—The Michigan legislature adopted a capital punishment bill proposing the electric chair for first degree murder. The vote was 61 to 25. The measure now goes to the senate. Should it be approved by the upper branch and signed by the governor it would return the death penalty to this state after a lapse of eighty years.

The bill, which was sponsored by Representatives Joseph C. Armstrong and Milton R. Palmer, both of Detroit, gives the jury discretion to designate life imprisonment or death for first degree murderers. The judge must abide by the jury's decision.

That amount would not be sufficient. He said 1,500 feet would be the lowest possible flow which would permit the waterway to operate at all.

Any reduction from 3,000 cubic second feet, Barnes said, would greatly cut down the savings on freight rates. It would also mean, he declared, that five locks would be required in the lower Illinois river, and probably a new lock built in the Mississippi river below the mouth of the Illinois.

The witness estimated that the cost of constructing and rehabilitating these locks so they could be able to handle a large tonnage of freight would be from $10,000,000 to $13,000,000. He figured the damage to navigation because of delays at 1 per cent per ton on each lock.

How Losses Are Figured.

"With a tonnage of 30,000,000 annually," Barnes said, "an amount which is entirely possible and probable, a loss of 6 cents per ton would mean a loss to navigation of $1,800,000." Captain J. P. Morgan, an agent of the government doing its work in its waterway reports, and you get a capitalized loss of $45,000,000. Add to this the cost of the six locks, and you find that the combined loss due to reduced diversion would be $55,000,000.

"Stating this in another way, I would say the value of the present water diversion would be a capitalized $55,000,000 annually."

Barnes pointed out to Special Master Hughes that cutting off the water diversion would ruin power plants now built or building along the route of the waterway. Without mentioning the fact that loss of power would make it impossible for the state to recover the $20,000,000 authorized in 1918 by constitutional amendment for building the waterway and power plants, he set the capitalized loss caused by loss of potential power at $45,000,000.

Loss on Water Power.

The witness arrived at these figures by testifying that 72,400 horsepower could be developed between Lockport and Utica with a 10,000 cubic second foot water diversion. The cost of this development he said, $7,500,000.

He said, would be less than $25 a horsepower or a total annual income for the state of $1,815,000.

Barnes asserted that the cost of obtaining water from either the Fox or Kankakee river for use in operating the locks in the Illinois waterway would be prohibitive. While the opposition have testified that water could be obtained from the two streams, but Barnes said that the cost of even a 90 cubic second foot diversion from the Fox river would be $18,000,000.

"Have you studied to determine the economic value of the Illinois waterway to the Mississippi using as comparison rates on shipments by water as compared with shipments by rail?" Dietz asked as his concluding question.

"I have," Barnes answered. "Without a waterway, the added cost of transportation by rail would be not less than 50 cents per ton for the town class of commodity, and increases to $6 per ton for such commodities as coffee and sugar. The capitalized loss would be $750,000,000 for 30,000,000 tons of freight."

Leland L. Summers, once a consulting engineer for J. P. Morgan & Co., and a technical adviser to the waterway commissioners of Verona, N. Y., said the increased evaporation due to drainage and deforestation of lands in the great lakes area had caused lowered lake levels. Evaporation, he said, has increased, and now constitutes a form of water diversion from the lakes.

Modern civilization, he said, is resulting in cutting down forests and reclaiming swamp lands caused a more arid condition and thus intensified evaporation.

Capt. H. W. Layne, a licensed Mississippi pilot, testified that the Chicago water diversion raised the level of the Mississippi and improved navigation.

STEAMER SINKS IN FOG COLLISION, BUT ONE LIFE LOST

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 24.—(UPI)—A steamer, the "City of Annapolis," sank in a foggy night, but of the more than 200 lives imperiled when a collision caused the sinking of one steamer, only one was taken. Miss Virginia Starkey of Baltimore, a passenger in a forward cabin of the Chesapeake Bay liner "City of Annapolis," which sank after colliding with its sister ship, "City of Richmond," was missing when passenger lists were checked here.

The ship's records showed 100 persons aboard, 47 passengers and 53 of the crew. Ninety-nine were found safely on the decks of the City of Richmond after the City of Annapolis sank.

The ships met not quite head-on at an angle which cut the bow of the City of Annapolis glancing off and drove the half-like prow of the City of Richmond fifteen feet into her sister's port side, just forward of the forward gangplank.

Miss Starkey occupied a cabin directly in the path of the other steamer.

PAROLE POWER TO HOLD PRISONERS FOR LIFE URGED

State Senators Hear Plan of Crime Enforcement.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Political changes in law enforcement which were proposed to the Cuttum committee of the state senate at a meeting held in the Union League yesterday.

The most far-reaching perhaps of many proposed new laws was that which would make all indeterminate sentences run from one year to life, giving the decision as to when the majority of convicts are to be returned to the state parole board, instead of with judge or jury.

It is now heard, with a fund of new power, that with a fund of new court powers, and investigators will get the individual background of the case of each criminal, that it have this tremendous power and especially, according to the plan, to the committee's chairman, Hinton M. Claibough, state chairman of paroles and penitentiaries. He stated unless he be as nonpolitical as possible, he would not feel like continuing in office, as the present method in returning prisoners is inadequate and gives no means of assessing the most discriminating justice.

The plan was pictured, not as a letter on the way to crime, but as one with it more convictions, less and more discrimination.

It would operate in place of the present good time law, under which all prisoners, good or bad alike, are turned loose after serving a stated portion of their sentence. It would operate to set up a prison which might have an additional term of a few months

a year, to keep him in the straight path. It would keep in prison

those who, in the opinion of the board were hopeless as good citizens.

But Mr. Claibough told the committee, it is the idea that criminals should be classified by the nature of their crime, but must be judged as individuals, their training, disposition,

mental condition and other conditions,

that would determine the punishment.

The purpose is to serve the man that has gone wrong,

and give him an arbitrary, fixed punishment as a matter of vengeance for crime. Another purpose is to get compromised pleas, under which criminals get off with light sentences.

But Albert J. Harn, of the University of Illinois law school, who has investigated parole records, said that they should abandon a high military standard to the criminal

in that in crime deterrence it is the penalty that counts but a measure of punishment.

Appeal in Hanging Cases.

An immediate appeal to the Supreme and all death penalty cases was recommended by Mr. Claibough.

"I believe that some have gone to prison in Illinois," he said, "without having those rights that people deserve who get put in such appeals."

A half way house between the in-the-hospital and the penitentiary for convicts was proposed by Senator

Harn. Under the present system

many such men are being held illegally in the penitentiary. Mr. Claibough said in supporting this idea, he has reached the time for parole, but the board is afraid to turn out.

Old Henry Barrett Chamberlin, operator of the Chicago crime commission, Mr. George Paddock,

and several other representatives of the commission were on hand to support the committee. Col. Chamberlin opposed the fourteen statutory revisions of the code which were passed by the commission on Jan. 6. A small revision of the code should not occur at this time, he said, as the code is now being prepared for the new law institute. He advised especially a new bill act and

MRS. VICTOR HERBERT, WIDOW OF THE NOTED COMPOSER, IS DEAD

New York, Feb. 24.—(Special)—Mrs. Theodore Herbert, widow of Victor Herbert, died today at her home. She had been ill of pneumonia for over a week. Her health had been poor since the sudden death of her composer husband in 1924.

With Mrs. Herbert when she died was her daughter, Ella, who made her home with her mother. Clifford Herbert, a son, is in Europe. The future arrangements have not been announced.

Mrs. Herbert, a noted operatic prima donna of a generation ago, was born in Vienna in 1861. She met Herbert in Stuttgart, Germany, while the young Irish musician was cellist in the Court orchestra. They became engaged, and when faced with a prospect of separation because of her impending trip to America to sing in the Metropolitan Opera, Authors and Publishers.

FORD HEARINGS END; DETROIT BANKER WITNESS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—(Special)—Hearings in the Ford tax appeal ended today with the testimony of Walter L. Dunham, vice president of the First National bank of Detroit. He was called by the former minority stockholders in the Ford Motor Company, who have been seeking since Jan. 10 to prove that an extra assessment of $30,000,000 on the sale of their stock to Henry and Edsel Ford in 1919 was unjustified.

After much cross examination, it was determined that there had been a "very wide market" for the Ford securities in 1919. He said that there had been "hundreds of Detroit business men" who would have jumped at the chance to buy the stock and participate in the dazzling earnings of the company.

It is thought that three months will be given before a decision on the appeal is rendered by Justice Sternhagen, Marquette and Van Patten as members of the United States board of tax appeals.

IMPEACH JUDGE AT MUNCIE, PLEA TO LEGISLATURE

Petitions Charge Dearth Suppressed Newspaper.

Muncie, Ind., Feb. 24.—[U.P.]—Fifty-five petitions to the state legislature asking impeachment of Judge George W. Dearth of the Delaware County Circuit court were being circulated here today.

Circulation of the petitions resulted from return of an issue of the Post-News, published by George R. Dearth and Mayor John Hampton of Muncie.

Dr. F. J. Bodkin, president of the Municipal League of Muncie, who sponsored circulation of the petitions, indicated the petitions would be sent to the legislature tomorrow.

Judge Dearth is charged with interference with the constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech and of the press by his order for the arrest of thirty-eight newsboys for selling the Post-Democrat and confiscation of their papers.

PRINCETON FORBIDS STUDENT AUTOS WHEN 7 ARE KILLED IN YEAR

Princeton, N. J., Feb. 24.—[Special]—Because of seven fatal automobile accidents in a year in which Princeton's students have figured, and because Dean Gauss holds the possession of an automobile is not essential to a young man's education, he has forbidden any student to own or operate an automobile at Princeton or in the neighborhood during the academic year.

Formal notice of the dean's order, which affects about 200 student automobile owners, will be published to-morrow.

Dean Gauss has advocated this action for a number of years, and when it was found that last year's action, which required a parent's permission before a student could own or operate a car, failed to meet the situation, the matter again became the subject of discussion by the board.

Yesterday at the call of Judge Dearth, received a secret indictment and a warrant was ordered prepared. It is believed to be in charge of criminal trial libel against Dearth.

Dearth will return to Muncie Saturday from Washington, where he filed a petition with the United States Supreme court for rehearing of his appeal from a jail sentence for contempt of court imposed by Judge Dearth.

RULES TODAY ON DROPPING CHARGE AGAINST DRUGGAN

Delehanty Again Under Fire in Contempt Case.

Federal Judge Louis Fitzhenry will rule today on the motion of defense counsel to dismiss the contempt charges against Terry Druggan, beer baron. Attorney David Stansbury, in asking that the charges be dismissed, argued that the government had failed to make out a case.

Attorney Stansbury told the court that the government case was entirely dependent upon the testimony of Joseph Delehanty, co-defendant, and that Delehanty had shown himself to be an inventor of stories with himself holding the true facts.

The government closed its case against Druggan and Grover Dillard, Druggan's chauffeur, by recalling Delehanty to the witness stand for cross-examination.

Walter Peterson, juror in the Druggan-Lake-Hoffman jail conspiracy case supposed to have been "fired" by Delehanty, took the stand earlier in the day. Peterson, a Wayne, Ill., carpenter, denied any fixing had been attempted.

Peterson said that the conversation he had with Delehanty while a juror and when Delehanty brought him his laundry was: "Here is the package of laundry that your mother sent you." Delehanty retorted that Peterson said: "Druggan is a friend of mine, remember, money." Peterson regarded Delehanty's hand waving and smiling merely as friendly greetings because of their long acquaintance, he said.

Peterson and Fred Bowen, with whom Peterson and Delehanty talked following the conclusion of the jail-scandal case, both testified that they did not believe Delehanty under oath.

SMALL SAVES NEGRO SLAYER FROM GALLows

Gov. Len Small yesterday committed to life imprisonment the death sentence of Sam Washington, colored slayer, who six times found himself in the shadow of the gallows. The governor's action followed a clemency recommendation made by the state board of pardons and paroles. Washington was deliriously happy when informed of his stay of Gov. Small's action.

Two hours before Washington, who killed his wife, wife, was scheduled to hang last Friday, Sheriff Charles E. Grayson persuaded Judge Harry E. Miller, in Criminal court, to issue a writ saving the Negro's life until a new appeal could be made to Chairman Hinton G. Clabaugh of the parole board.

BUDD AWARDS 4 MEDALS FOR SAVING OF LIFE

The Britton I. Budd medal for the saving of human life was presented yesterday to two employees of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, to one employee of the Chicago Rapid Transit company and posthumously to a late employee of the Chicago North Shore and Milwaukee railroad.

The medal, recently established, may be given to any employee of the public utilities headed by Mr. Budd, for the saving of life anywhere and at any time. Yesterday's presentations were the first made.

Those receiving the medals were:

Lyman Dean, deceased, motor coach operator on the North Shore line. On Oct. 25, 1926, Dean was driving 18 school children when his coach was caught in the path of a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul train at Northbrook. Dean remained at his wheel and succeeded in backing the coach far enough off the tracks so that only the front end where he himself sat was struck. None of the children was killed.

Dean is survived by his widow and three children, living in Highland Park. Mrs. Dean received the medal from Mr. Budd.

Malville Cover, 21, inspector in the communication department, Chicago Rapid Transit company, on Sept. 12, 1926, saved the life of Ralph Gregg, 5, of the Baptist Children's home in Maywood. The child was bruised from a trestle of the Chicago, Aurora and Elgin railroad into the Des Plaines river.

Lewis W. Gibbs, 26, head ledger clerk for the Public Service company at Lacon, Ill., saved the life of L. J. Barr, engineer of the Lacon Woolen mills, by resuscitating him after Barr had been rendered unconscious by a heavy electric shock. Gibbs also received the insulin medal, awarded for life saving by means of the Schaefer prone pressure method in cases of electric shock.

Edward F. Muska, 28, service man for the Public Service company at Crystal Lake, saved the life of Anna Valanis, 13½, West 14th place, Chicago, by resuscitating her.

SWEAR MCELANE OWNED AUTO OF FANCHER KILLERS

Seller, Others Talk; Row Halts Sheriff's Story.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Valparaiso, Ind., Feb. 24.—[Special]—Court was near the close of today's session when Frank McElane, Chicago hoodlum, on trial for the murder of Fred S. Fancher, Sheriff Ben Strong of Lake county, was called to the witness stand before Judge Harry L. Crumpacker.

Strong made his campaign for sheriff on the issue of bringing McElane to trial in Indiana. So here today were McElane facing a jury and Ben Strong facing McElane, with McElane's life and liberty in the balance.

Wrangle Over Chicago Testimony.

"What, if anything, do you hear said by McElane's attorneys, Benedict J. Short and Michael Ahern, in Judge John P. McGaughy's court in Chicago, relative to the ownership of a certain automobile?" Special Prosecutor Ralph N. Smith asked Strong.

Before Sheriff Strong could answer, Attorneys Ira M. Holmes and Joseph Conroy, for the defense, interjected their objections to the question, which the court apparently permitted to infer that the witness' answer practically would amount to McElane's being compelled to give evidence against himself.

"We'll admit that the automobile down there in Indiana is McElane's car his attorneys had said before Judge McGaughy during a hearing on a habeas corpus petition by which the lawyers hoped to save McElane from extradition to Indiana."

It was the statement of the prosecution that it would repeat, and which the lawyers, now acting for McElane, sought by interposing objections. Judge Crumpacker will rule on the objections tomorrow morning.

Says McElane Bought Car.

During the earlier testimony A. E. Silber, who has an auto agency in Chicago, testified that McElane purchased the automobile which was found wrecked a few miles from the roadhouse in which a few minutes before Fancher, a Crown Point lawyer, was slain. Proof that the murderer of Fancher bought the car and in the ditch has been upheld in the trial of John O'Reilly, who testified yesterday against McElane.

Not only was there testimony that McElane bought the automobile used by the murderers, but E. M. Harman, chief investigator of the office of Louis Emmerman, secretary of state of Illinois, testified that McElane had applied for and had been given the license plates found on the murderer's car.

The state expects to finish its presentation of evidence tomorrow.

HOOVER SEES END OF RADIO CHAOS IN FEW MONTHS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—[Special]—The enactment of radio legislation has paved the way to clear up "the chaos of interference and howls in radio reception," according to Secretary Hoover.

The new commission, which is to determine who shall have licenses to broadcast, at what times, and with what power, will no doubt require some months to rearrange broadcasting." Mr. Hoover said: "It also will require some patience on the part of listeners while the commission works out the problem."

There are today 723 stations broadcasting for public entertainment, and there are a total of 18,119 radio sending stations of all sorts.

This new act makes a fundamental change in the whole radio system. Every license for radio transmission now outstanding is automatically terminated. This applies to all of the 18,119 stations—broadcasting, amateur, transmitters.

"Owners of licensed stations may under the law continue to operate them for a period of sixty days without incurring the penalties provided in the act for unlicensed operation.

"Applications for station licenses are to be filed with the secretary of commerce as heretofore, although they can be acted upon only by the commission."

Held on Mayhem Charge Preferred by Politician

Judge Edgar Jonas in the Town Hall court yesterday held Victor G. De Ganco, 25 years old, 3761 Ward street, to the grand jury in $5,000 bonds on charges of mayhem preferred by Richard Maser, 2148 Cleveland avenue, well known in north side Republican politician. Maser told the court that De Ganco, a night clubber, had chewed his thumb on Feb. 6, while at a dance, Maser reprimanded the other for entering a woman's restroom.

KLAN LOSES ITS APPEAL AGAINST KANSAS OUSTER

U. S. Supreme Court Upholds State.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—(UPI)—The Ku Klux Klan today lost in the Supreme court its claim of the right to carry on activities in any state without obtaining permission from the state.

The question reached the court from Kansas in an appeal by the Georgia Klan corporation, which sought to conduct its activities there without obtaining permission as required by the Kansas law relating to corporations organized in other states.

Not Necessary to Hear State.

Questioning of John S. Dean, counsel for the Klan, by the members of the court during his argument was followed by Chief Justice Taft's announcement that the counsel for the state would not have to be heard, as the court was without jurisdiction in the case. An order giving effect to the court's decision to dismiss the appeal will shortly be announced, probably Monday.

Mr. Dean emphasized the importance of the controversy from the viewpoint of the Ku Klux Klan and declared that it wanted to contest the right of any state to exclude it as a foreign corporation. He asserted that every state corporation in the United States had that right under the federal constitution.

Disagrees with Klan Statement.

Members of the court declined to agree with him and expressed their views to the contrary. These were summarized by Justice McReynolds, who demanded that Dean state the grounds for claiming such a right. He replied that every corporation, including the Klan, was guaranteed by the federal constitution rights of free speech, a free press, and to conduct business.

Chief Justice Taft then interjected that no corporation had the right to be in a state without its permission unless engaged in interstate commerce. Dean, however, contended that the Klan was engaged in such commerce.

LAWYERS FINISH
PLEA FOR MILLER AND DAUGHERTY

New York, Feb. 24.—[Special]—Official negligence in permitting one of his "young men" to try federal cases before his formal admission to the bar of this state was charged against United States Attorney Emory Buckner today by Alan Sapir, attorney for former U. S. Property Custodian Thomas W. Miller, who, with former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty, is on trial before a federal jury on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in granting a $7,000,000 claim against the alien property custodian.

No witnesses were called in defense of Miller. Mr. Sapir devoted most of his summation to efforts to convince the jury that the government had failed to make out a conspiracy case.

Gen. Daugherty will never go to any penitentiary. A conviction here would kill him on the spot."

Both Mr. Sapir and Mr. Corbin finished their summing up before adjournment. Mr. Buckner said his summation would take all of tomorrow if not longer.

Defends Payments to Britain and U. S.

BY HENRY WALES.

Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, Feb. 24.—Though far from an instant ratification himself, Premier Poincare, in the chamber of deputies, last night fired a broadside at the French politicians who are raising the issue of debt repudiation with a cry to the forthcoming general election.

"France cannot forever blindly trust in herself the kind heartedness of creditors," snapped the grizzled old fighter, during his argument to pay 10,000,000 ($30,000,000) to England, and the provisional offer to pay $10,000,000 to America, record.

But the fact that the Calleaux-Cassel and Mellon-Berenger pacts have not been ratified.

"Never Will O. K. Facts."

Louis Dubois, whose interrogation last night on the floor of the chamber, aroused tumultuous enthusiasm by declaring:

"Parliament never will ratify, with or without reserves, either of these pacts. We have a right to know if payments bind parliament in any way."

But, stoutly denying that parliament is in any way bound by his decision to pay something down now, Premier Poincare stirred even greater apprehension.

Able to Pay, He Says.

"No good Frenchman can honestly oppose payment of his debts," he said. "What we are paying now is only a little besides what we owe. The debts paid are well and well deserved and we cannot pay long they last."

We are in a position to say something now. Our creditors know it, and we are paying—that is all."

Despite certain evidences of sympathy in Washington, obviously the time for ratification has come. By uniting our debts here we must not let the Americans believe the opposition to the Mellon-Berenger accord is still our desire to escape payment altogether."

O. K. of Rum Fact.

PARIS, Feb. 24.—[U. P.]—The French Senate today ratified the Franco-American treaty to help prevent smuggling of alcohol into the United States which was signed at Washington June 3, 1924.

That takes more time and trouble—but it's worth it as you well know every time you enjoy this delicious dish.

If we hurried, Heinz Beans wouldn't taste so good, smell so good, and be so good. It's the baking—the slow, careful baking in real ovens—that makes Heinz Beans so very, very good to eat.

PROPOSE LOWER TAX ON FIRE PROOF BUILDINGS

Reduction of Hazard Is Held Public Benefit.

Should not credit on taxes be given to the owner of a fireproof building or of a building where there have been installed fire pumps which can be used to fight outside fires? A fireproof building does not contribute to the fire hazard, but acts as a fire wall. A building equipped with a fire pump is of benefit in fighting a neighboring fire.

Barrett Proposes New Principle.

This new theory in the principles of taxation is being considered in Chicago, it was learned yesterday from Charles V. Barrett, member of the board of review, who will present his views to the board at its next meeting.

"It is a logical theory," said Mr. Barrett. "The man who spends additional money to make his building safe cuts the fire hazard and the cost of government, through the fire department. He performs a public benefit. It would seem fair that he should receive some recompense in the form of credit on his taxes."

Asks Credit for Fireproof Building.

"Were the present tax rate applied to the actual value of ground and building there would of course be no more building in Chicago. In practice, tax officials would set a valuation which allows a fair return to the man courageous enough to build. If a man invests an extra amount in fireproof construction and fire equipment, why should this not also be taken into consideration in fixing his taxes?"

Helen declared her father told her to go to Brooks for money. She still had $700, which was returned to Brooks.

Next-door strangers—

A SITUATION exists in Boston that is not paralleled in any other large American city—a peculiar division of the population into two great groups. Families living side by side may be friends—yet in certain matters they are total strangers. This separation is not based on mass or class, but is established largely by heredity, by tradition, preference and environment. The stranger moving into Boston immediately senses the difference and he, too, immediately is associated with one of the two groups. The barrier—intangible as it is—is real.

No national advertiser can hope to win success for his wares in Boston until he recognizes the unalterable division of its people and is prepared to base his advertising plans accordingly, for no one Boston newspaper is read by both the population groups.

It is not possible to cover Boston advertising on a basis of circulation alone. The Boston Herald-Traveller is not the largest of the major newspapers in point of circulation, but in volume of national advertising, including all financial, automobile and publication advertising, the Herald-Traveller leads every other Boston newspaper. The Herald-Traveller represents one group—three other Boston newspapers represent the other. The volume of national advertising carried by the Herald-Traveller is evidence that the group it serves is the more responsive to advertising and the more profitable market.

In the suburbs of highest per capita wealth, Herald-Traveller circulation is greatest. Herald-Traveller readers cannot be covered by any other newspaper or combination of newspapers. For that reason, every advertising campaign aimed at a complete coverage of the Business Boston area must include the Herald-Traveller first, and one or more of the other daily newspapers.

Our Chicago representatives are Boston born. Why not ask them to help you with your sales in Boston? They will be glad to co-operate at any time and without obligation.

Why Be Fat?

Chicago Man Discovers Safe, Sure Way to Grow Thin Without Drugs or Starvation Diet

Thousands flock to Dynell Spring—Source of Wonderful Fat Reducing Water

Pictured above is the magnificent new $100,000.00 Dynell Spring Country Club which houses the celebrated Dynell Spring Water Fountain. These beautiful quarters also offer many luxuries and conveniences for visitors.

Here is good news that will bring joy to thousands of men and women who are overweight. Everyone knows that in order to increase your years, you must decrease your waistline.

You can do this quickly. You can safely rid yourself of excess flesh simply by drinking this water—this pure, natural, unadulterated, odorless, tasteless mineral water—just as it comes from Mother Earth!

No need for you to resort to violent, disagreeable exercises—to dangerous drugs—to rigorous, and often harmful dieting.

Every day that you continue to carry more weight than you should—every day that you permit this condition to go on—now that you know of this discovery—will be your own fault!

For Nature itself has provided you with this easy, pleasant, healthy way to grow thin. Hundreds of people have proved the potency of this remarkable discovery. Stout people from all over the state—from every part of the country—are flocking to Dynell Spring, already famous as Chicago's great Fountain of Health.

This wonderful mineral water has been definitely found to contain remarkable fat-reducing properties. In many cases it has reduced from five to sixty pounds of excess fat. Hundreds of stout people who have done nothing for this condition beyond drinking Dynell Spring Water, are loud in their praise of it.

Chicago's Own Fountain of Health

Dynell Spring, the source of this remarkable health water, was discovered by Mr. C. A. Coey, prominent Chicagoan, whose recent picture appears on this page. Mr. Coey is the President of Dynell Spring Water Co. on 95th St. at Palos Park, where this wonderful natural spring is located.

For years Mr. Coey drank no other water than that which comes from his now famous spring. Friends and acquaintances who have known him for several decades say that he looks the same today as he did 20 years ago. Mr. Coey gives all credit to this marvelous health water which, he says, is not only a weight normalizer but a remedy for many ills to which human flesh is heir.

Dynell Spring Water has been carefully analyzed chemically and its mineral content accurately tabulated. The recent analysis by Chicago Laboratory is reproduced here:

The reason Dynell Spring Water will banish fatty tissue without danger to the nervous system, thinning the blood or causing any other injurious effect is that it contains mineral salts in such profusion and in such perfect solution, as to bring about a natural stimulus to the metabolism of the system.

In other words, its natural properties serve to reduce fat, yet there are minerals contained which actually enrich the blood and keep the system in fine, healthy condition.

The Sure, SAFE Way to Reduce

Elsewhere on this page are reproduced genuine letters from Chicago people—some of whom you may know—telling how they rid themselves of excess weight merely by drinking this pure, tasteless, odorless natural spring water. Its fat-reducing powers have been demonstrated in literally hundreds of cases—and the elimination is natural and healthy—just gradual enough to permit the body to gain in strength as the excess flesh is lost. No danger in this normal form of reducing—no heart palpitation, no nervous reaction, no skin eruption. It is absolutely safe—sure—healthy.

Mr. Coey invites every sufferer from obesity to come to Dynell Spring. Here you can see this sparklingly clear water as it bubbles forth from the earth—from 290 feet below the surface and through 80 feet of solid bed-rock, which frees it from any possibility of contamination.

Come out to the Spring on Saturday or Sunday or any other day. Drink all you want of this wonderful Dynell Spring Water absolutely free.

Spend the day in this lovely, picturesque spot with its luxurious new club house, open to all. Here you can dine, rest and make yourself quite at home.

Try this marvelous water while here—all you want of it. You must drink to live. So why not give Dynell Spring Water a chance to reduce your weight as it has so many former sufferers.

Fresh From Spring Daily

One of the paramount virtues of Dynell Spring Water is its absolute freshness. This water is delivered to Chicago users fresh from the Spring each day. In fact many of the regular users of Dynell Water come direct to the Spring for it themselves. It is an established fact that water shipped from distant points deteriorates long before it reaches the users. Like everything else, the flavor and efficacy of water is improved by being fresh. Dynell Water is the only mineral water sold in Chicago which is actually fresh.

Make This Free Test

Decide now that you will visit the Spring as do hundreds of Chicagoans every day in the year. Dynell Spring is located on 95th Street, eight miles west of Western Avenue. For the convenience of those without automobiles a Chicago distributing station for Dynell Water has been established at 6226 South Western Avenue. Open from 8 A. M. to 6 P. ## CARDINALSHOME; PLAY WINNIPEG SEXTET TONIGHT

Moore to Make Bow as Goal Keeper.

Hockey Scores

NATIONAL LEAGUE
National Conference: St. Louis, 2;
Alma, 1; New York Rangers, 0.

BY FRANK SCHREIBER.

After an absence of more than a month, during which time they visited every city in the league, the Chicago Cardinals will return to the Coliseum tonight to battle the Winnipeg Maroons in the first of a two game American association hockey series. The second game of the set will be played on Sunday.

Winnipeg leads the American association by an 8 point margin, but in their last battle with the Maroons on the Winnipeg rink the Cardinals shut out the leaders, 2 to 0. The Cards have eight games to play on the Coliseum rink, and Coach Nip Dwan hopes to pull his team into the playoff apices for the league title with victories in six of the eight contests.

Moore Makes Bow Tonight.

The Cardinals will start Wentworth and Taylor at defense positions to-night with Graham, Burns, and Leonard on the forward line. One Cardinal will make his first appearance on the home rink. He is Goalkeeper Ralph Moore, who joined the team a month ago in St. Paul and who won a regular role, displacing Bud Fisher, who was released.

Chuck Gardiner, playing goal for the Maroons, is rated the best guard in the nets in the league. Chuck Brown, the Cards' leader in the league in scoring this season, while Cliff O'Meara, Brown's running mate on the wings, is second in the ranking. Bill Stanley is manager of the team and plays a defense position.

Open A. A. Races Carded.

Following the hockey match the Opal A. A. will hold the first of a series of speed skating races. The Opals twice had their annual speed tournament postponed from outdoor rinks because of bad weather, and decided to transfer the races indoors.

The events carded for tonight are: Men's class A, 220 yards; novice class, 140 yards; girls, class B, 220 yards.

CHESS CHAMPION BEATS ALEKHINE IN FIFTH ROUND

New York, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Jose R. Capablanca, Havana, world title holder, vanquished his most formidable rival, Dr. Alexander Alekhine of Paris, in the fifth round of the International Chess Masters' tournament today.

The champion played an irregular defense against Alekhine's queen's pawn opening. After the Parisian had advanced his pawns in an attack on the king's side, Capablanca engineered a counter attack which forced Dr. Alekhine to resign.

Aron Nimzowitsch of Copenhagen proved himself the victor by winning from Dr. Vidmar, who resigned after twenty-nine moves. Playing a strategy game against Rudolf Spielmann of Vienna, Frank J. Marshall, United States champion, secured a draw in thirty-six moves. The standings:

Capablanca, W. L. 3½; Spielmann, 1½; Nimzowitsch, 1½; Vidmar, 1½; Dr. Alekhine, 2; Marshall, 1. 1½

DELANEY'S THUMB AND ELBOW BONE BROKEN IN BOUT

New York, Feb. 24.—[Special]—X-ray photographs taken of Jack Delaney's left thumb and right arm today revealed the nature of the injuries which the light heavyweight champion was said to have suffered in his bout against Jim Maloney in Madison Square Garden last Friday. The report stated:

"The left hand shows a fracture to the thumb where the long bone of the thumb joins the short bone at the wrist and an intramedullary deposit of recent origin between these two bones. The left elbow shows a fracture at the tip of the olecranon process, which is the top of the long bone of the forearm."

Delaney will be unable to box for two months, it was stated.

WALTONS TALK BAG LIMIT ON DUCK HUNTING

Davison, Ill., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Seasonal and daily bag limits to regulate duck hunting and prevent over-hunting of game of this game bird was debated at some length by delegates to the Illinois Izaak Walton league convention today.

Those from cities along the Illinois river were especially insistent that the movement to make a seasonal as well as daily bag limit on duck hunting be sponsored by the national organization, it is understood by the Illinois delegation.

The Aurora delegation was the first to appear on the floor with a proposal for next year's meeting.

CENTRAL A. A. U. MAT PRELIMS CARDED TONIGHT

Ducks, Gulls Frolic as Ice Floes Move

BY BOB BECKER.

With gentle south and southwest winds sweeping the ice floes from the west to the east shore line of Lake Michigan, the whistler ducks and the gulls, have been enjoying the broad, open stretches of quiet water for which our springlike weather is responsible. Yesterday morning at 7 o'clock we went to take shore at a point 32 miles from Chicago in order to watch these interesting aquatic species flying back and forth in the morning sunlight or resting and feeding not far from the shore.

The whistlers [or goldeneyes], black and white flyers in the morning sunlight, caught the eye of Sam of Avondale, our spriggin spaniel. Birds flying over water are [according to one man of thinking] ducks and to a spaniel duck mean the fun of hunting and retrieving.

Look for the whistler the next time you get along the lake shore and listen for the music which he makes when he flies. This fellow has the most melodious wings of all waterfowl.

CHICAGO WOMEN WIN FIRST ROUND OF GOLF TOURNEY

Mrs. Pardue and Miss Van Wie Triumph.

Ormond Beach, Fla., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, Philadelphia, veteran winner of golf championships in all parts of the world, was hard pressed here today to win from a newcomer to tournament play. She beat Miss Louise Branch, Richmond, Va., 3 and 1, in the first round of the South Atlantic women's championship.

The events carded for tonight are:

Men's class A, 220 yards; novice class, 140 yards; girls, class B, 220 yards.

SMITTY—MANY ARE CALLED, BUT FEW SHOW UP!

Superfrank Captures N.O. Handicap Race

New Orleans, La., Feb. 24.—(Scripps)—This afternoon's feature at the Fair Grounds was the Horsemen of America handicap race, gallon of a mile and a sixteenth for three year olds and upward, and only four paraded. The winner was the Audley farm's consistent homebred gelding Superfrank, and paid only $3.80 to mutuels.

Although there was a small field, there was a spirited contest, the quartet racing to the far turn abreast. After that Superfrank and Mr. Lowenstein's colt fought it out for the minor lead, which went to half a length.

The Audley farm's veteran gelding Alepoxx took down third money.

Legare had the mount on the winner, which carried top weight of 120 pounds and ran the distance in 1:48 1/4.

For Doubters

Like scientists, bankers are professional doubters. Their success often depends upon their insistence for proof of contentions.

Most American Appraisals are presented to bankers. That they are preferred for such use, is due to their ability to prove their correctness.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

One of Ten.

Jacob, aged 12, is unable to go to church because his every day clothes are far too shabby to wear on Sunday. He is the third child of a family of ten. His father died a year ago and the mother all she can do is buy food for her hungry flock. Can any one provide a suit and shirts for him? He is large and wears 16 year old size. "C. P. P."

The clothing your son has outgrown or is about to discard would do quite well for Jacob, I think. May he not have it?

Request for Portable Phonograph.

"I am wondering if any one has a small portable phonograph to cheer a few sick room patients. We have room only for one.

This request comes from one of the municipal sanitarians, and I hope you'll be able to fit it in. Just think of all the joy and fun you could bring into the lives of these unfortunate people with your phonograph.

John Bordens, Just Home, Prepare to Head West Again

BY NANCY R.

Although it is less than three weeks since the John Bordens returned from their wintering trip, they are now heading westward again, the middle of next month. Chicago apparently has no terrors for them, and their charming house and many friends at this end of the country, and their new schooner, Northern Light, at the other, can say, but as soon as it is over, the Bordens are going to collect a group of guests, including the B. Goodspeeds, Miss Edith Cummins (at present in Florida) and the B. Sheldons, who are scouts chosen for the party and embark on their long round excursion to Alaska. They will sail in May or June, and be ready the moment the Northern Light gives the signal.

It is to be a grand jaunt, and all the friends of the little band of explorers who are destined to take their second hand, from post office to post office, along the way and upon their return, are hoping the goods, who are among our favorite globe trotters, are bound now in the Orient. They had a trip to Honolulu this spring, and seem to have given it up that may be ready when the skipper of the Northern Light gives the signal.

However, I hear that the fair "Borden" Goodspeed is about to set off on a long ocean voyage. Always ready to give up a special little cheer for the Borden because she admits there was a worse sailor than she, we can't resist the lure of the new hills and valleys.

Those of you to whom seasickness is a stranger will certainly agree that she has pluck.

Day's News in Society

Henry's play producing movement is developing into a project of size and stability, according to the augurs of the audience and plays at the Playwright theater meeting yesterday afternoon in the Tudor room of the Henry theater. "Double Shift," a single play with a surprising ending of an ending, and "A Delightful Surprise," which was a book agent and a cook, were Mrs. Graham T. Ladd, Mrs. Madeline Stanley, and Mrs. Adele E. Furst, who had great offerings which met with great favor. As did Mrs. Samuel Rinckay's uproarious satire on keeping a man with "Entertaining Guests." Mr. Laird Bell, Mr. Paul Coyne, Mr. Edward Lambrough, and Robert McMillan comprised the cast for Mrs. Aldis' plays, and Mrs. Irene Hyman, Edward Passmore of Perry Miller played "Entertaining Guests" with Mrs. Hyman in the rôle of Mrs. Aldis.

The audience included Miss Marion Morrison, who arrived with Arthur J. H. Miss Frances McFadden, Andrew R. Sheriff, Mrs. H. C. Meek, Miss Grace Hickox, Mrs. D. B. Atkinson, Mrs. Frank R. The Hon. and Mrs. Vincent Massey are to get a fig juice from the loose, or bag figs, pick over the figs and look carefully for any sort of imperfection. They may be first washed and rubbed through cold water. Then drain and rub them in warm water, soak them over night and then cook for a short time in a tightly closed aluminum kettle of a reasonably small size. The figs may be drained from the water and eaten in the fingers, and the water used for a drink.

A little lemon juice or grapefruit juice may be used to tone up the dried fruit drinks, but in most cases these have their own acid flavor, which is best for not being in any way meddled with.

Dried apricots, merely soaked after being washed, trimmed, rinsed and soaked over night, give a sweet juice to use as a morning tonic drink, and so do dried peaches.

Our grandfathers made spring drinks of many a thing from the woods: our northern ancestors from the birch tree in spring, and our southern from the sassafras bark and roots. The skin on the black birch twigs was gnawed off by youngsters who called it the candy birch, while the older folk used it to give the wintergreen flavor for spring drinks and hateful medicines.

Best Sanitarium
for Worn Out Nerves Is Ocean Steamship

I heard about a man once who used to get on an ocean liner, dissemble with his fellow passengers, and spend only the time on land required to board a return steamer. He did this three times in succession and claimed to have taken the world's greatest health cure.

In support of the health assets that an ocean trip has to offer, Dr. Clarence W. Lieb, who made the recent interesting diet studies on Stefansson, the arctic explorer, writing in a current health publication, offers a few of the meritorious of the sea voyage.

From a hygienic point of view, Dr. Lieb says it is almost perfection. There is no dirt aboard ship, for decks, railings and walls are washed and re-cleaned. Ventilation is perfect. The comforts of bed and bathroom equal that of the best hotels. Privacy is ideal. You can retire when you want to and sleep as long as you desire.

If you are looking for an escape from the thousand petty irritations of a land day, let the ocean liner put a number of leagues between you and the busing telephone, soldiers' messes and relatives, the butler, the baker, and the confectioner, making racking fire alarms, dramatic newspaper-headlines and intrusive salesmen.

Not is this one-half of the nerve treatment. You can bathe in the ocean without having to jump overboard, and get the tonic effect on the circulation that salt brine exerts. You can exercise to your heart's delight, either in the gym or on a squash or tennis court. Or, there is deck pacing—stimulating and invigorating. "The crisp, salty air seems to generate power and, time having no meaning, one may walk for an hour without tiring," says Dr. Lieb.

Then you may loll in your deck chair and absorb ultra-violet rays to your skin's content. There are more of these health giving rays at sea, the physician explains, when fog and cloud are absent than on land, for there is neither dust nor smoke to blanket off such rays, and their reflection is much more intense in getting better measure.

The fare aboard ship is up to you to do right or wrong by yourself with. If you have the strength of character to choose simple foods, eat leisurely, and masticate thoroughly, nutrition and elimination will be so improved that many of the ills brought aboard will gradually vanish. Dr. Lieb promises. For the insomnia sufferer the swish of the waves help to close the restive eyes at reasonable hours.

Flexible Tariff Act Is Upheld By Customs Court

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—(Special) Valdina of the flexible tariff provisions of the tariff act of 1922 was upheld today by the United States Court of Customs Appeals.

The decision was given in a test case involving action by President Coolidge increasing the duty on barium dioxide from four to six cents per pound.

Importing interests sponsored the test case and announced their intention now to carry it to the Supreme Court of the United States.

J. W. Hampton Jr. & Co., New York, Chicago, maintained that the constitutional issue. The broad question involved is the right of congress to delegate to the President the power to change rates of duty. This was often challenged during the debates in congress prior to the passage of the Fordney-McCumber act and many lawyers have pointed out that it all along has been held to be unconstitutional as delegating to the President the power to tax.

The Court of Customs Appeals decision today held squarely that the flexible tariff provisions are a valid exercise of the constitutional grant of power to congress to regulate commerce.

Slayer of Wife,
Sheriff Shoots
Self in Hotel

Ashbury Park, N. J., Feb. 24.—(Special)—After revealing his identity to a newspaper reporter, Ernest Rieker of South Langhorne, Pa., who killed his wife and fatally wounded a sheriff at his home yesterday, fired three shots into his own body at a hotel here today. As he was taken to a hospital in Spring Lake, word was received that the sheriff, Abram Kulp, had died.

Health authorities said Rieker's wounds probably were fatal. The revolver which he turned upon himself was the same with which he shot his wife, Mrs. Helen Oakley Rieker, and Sheriff Kulp.

Before he shot himself, Rieker spoke to the reporter, John D. Osborne, of the Ashbury Park Press, whom he had called to his room:

"I killed her because I loved her and because I loved my baby. A woman relative made all the trouble. She broke up our home. She made life hell for me."

COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent cough and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat trouble. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes to the stomach to absorb the acids, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed statistically to stop persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory disease. It is a favorite for repairing the system after colds or flu. Many physicians say if any cough or cold is persistent, follow directions. Ask your druggist.

Panel Is with Us in Chic New Guises

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondence)—Floating with the tide! Here's our own special little caption for these panels that are made in one with the girdle tied in the back. It's quite an original touch and seems to combine practicality with grace.

Chiffon printed with pink flowers on a white ground executes the frock, simple, but too straight to blouse a bit at the hips. Plain green chiffon forms the girdle with its long pointed panels dropping below the hem line. A green crepe slip diffuses its tone through the chiffon and blends into the color scheme with a charming apple blossom effect. Could anything be more appropriate for dinner on the terrace under the palm trees?

Chiffon continues to be the favorite medium in which evening frocks are executed for resort wear. Chanel is sending over practically nothing else for this special purpose. She shows them in deep blue, red, black and white. One of the favorite colors, so characteristic of these creations, starts at the shoulder, but occasionally it is superimposed upon the skirt.

These models are only one evidence of the clever treatment given panels nowadays. And not alone in evening frocks! An attractive dress for informal daytime wear shows this new mode of construction. It's a piece dress with a loose and sleeveless bodice and the shoulder, and the waistline is tucked in, which stimulates a girdle, full two side panels gathered full and tucked at the bottom to correspond with the rocks.

Why Bait Him with Jealousy? It's Often Proved Disastrous

BY DORIS BLAKE.

It's an old game—this playing upon jealousy to excite a man's interest, but I'd be willing to wager that the disasters far outnumber the victories, if official record were kept.

Betty, 19, fell in love with the nicest boy she ever knew, got the "wild idea," she says, of making him jealous. She centered her attentions one evening on an attractive man in their crowd and let her boy friend quite alone. The first tryout proved a huge success, she reports.

Then the boy friend, feeling deeply hurt, but Emily joined him along and for a while he was more attentive than ever. But after several more occasions of exercising her wild idea she saw, under her very eyes, the young man appropriated bodily and willingly by the sister of one of her girl friends. And now she is left alone, registering a sigh every breath. Generally enough, though, she offers her experience in the hope of saving some other silly girl.

"Those in love," says Betty, "make the most foolish mistakes."

PREDICTS COAL EXHAUSTION AND TROPIC CHICAGO

Exhaustion of coal and petroleum resources at the present rate of increasing consumption, was predicted yesterday by W. L. Abbott, chief operating engineer of the Commonwealth Edison company. He spoke before a meeting of the Electrical Association at 30 North Dearborn street.

Declaring that the climate was changing, because of more carbon in the air, he said Chicago in future ages would become tropical and that wheat would be raised in the arctic circle.

This work is entirely different from anything you have ever done before.
WE WORK ASKED TO SELL ANYTHING and the work of a salesman, accomplished by any white man over 25 years of age, are rare. We desire men who are ambitious for advancement, and who are willing to work 10 hours a day to our work. Weekly pay check will delight the remittance department.

Remember, we do not require experience, but we do require ambition. If you are anxious to add to their present income, NO NEED TO FEAR. We do not want phone calls, but call us personally. This ad will appear until Friday evening.

CELESTE—Now—desire this. This opportunity is for real people. You will never have another chance like this.

Full time positions may be had after every 5 months. We prefer men.
